PURPOSE

The UKN Cat6A shielded field connector is a high-performance solution designed for fast and reliable terminations in demanding environments. It accommodates cable diameters from 6 to 8.5 mm and supports conductors from AWG22 to AWG26, offering great versatility for various installation configurations. Its robust 360° shielding effectively protects against electromagnetic (EMI) and radio frequency (RFI) interference, ensuring signal integrity even in industrial environments.

Designed to support Power over Ethernet Plus Plus (PoE++) applications, it delivers up to 90W of power, in compliance with IEEE 802.3bt standards. This capability makes it ideal for powering high-consumption devices such as wireless access points, IP cameras, and building management systems.

The UKN Cat6A shielded field connector combines ease of installation, enhanced shielding, and high power capability to meet the demands of modern network infrastructures, especially in industrial and high-density environments. Suitable for cable diameters between 6 and 8 mm.
